After the poor showing the horse made with Boland up three weeks ago and then winning the Adams, the horse was informed Mr. Dunn that in the future the entries of Boland would be refused unless ridden by Adams. Boland followed by running two poor races. When Boland was entered the other day Adams was engaged for another mount, and Boland was not allowed to start. Owner Dunn was informed of the permission of Judge Brady to allow Boland to start with Adams up. Boland had no trouble in winning with him. After a long delay at the post, occasioned by horses cutting up and whirling, they went away well aligned. Capponero, in her usual fashion, shot to the front. Waldo set out after her with Boland and gradually gained ground, in turning into the stretch Murphy, Capponero, left a crack on the rail open, and Waldo came through it, took advantage of the good spot in the track and won handily. In Doubt was third.

BARNETT'S GOOD RIDE

Barnett, a new but likely boy, rode a very good, and incidentally a winning, race on Alimony in the fourth event. Gladys was leading at the far end of the track, and continued to do the front running to the half, where Duell set out after him. Barnett held Alimony in a good position and rated along to the stretch, when he urged the mare along, overhauled the front runners and won handily. Love took Saul's Delight to the overland road and waited too long with her. Wilton, the favorite in the first race, acted badly at the post, and in the going left. Lord Falconer, reined in the going much to the announced surprise of Thomas Hurris, his owner, and won easily. With 97 pounds on Ora McKinney, against 118 on the favorite, the horse acted badly at the post, and in the going left. Lord Falconer, reined in the going much to the announced surprise of Thomas Hurris, his owner, and won easily. In a strenuous finish between Tros and Gouly in the last race Calby put the former first past the wire by a nose. Scorpialette, the favorite, ran a disappointing race.

SUDHOFF BY THE INVADERS

Osteen Lifted Ball Over Fence and Ganzel Sent Sphere to Left Field Bleachers When Bases Were Full.

The New York "Invaders" defeated the Browns in a one-sided game at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 3.

At no stage of the game were the local players in the running. Griffith's men got away with a flying start and scored three runs in the first inning. That was as many as the Browns could put together in the nine innings.

With McLeary out on a deal for players, Dick Padden was in charge of the local forces. He took the lid off "Willie" Sudhoff and ordered him to the firing line.

That Dick acted too hastily in choosing the little Teuton was shown in the seventh inning when the visitors pounced onto his curves for two home runs and two singles. This, coupled with a base on balls and an infield hit, gave the Browns a lead of six runs.

Sudhoff's inability to stop the batting of the "Invaders" cost the locals the victory. Not for once in the game did the Browns show any signs of life.

They were outplayed, outpitched, outbatted and outplayed. Three singles and an error gave three runs to the visitors in the first inning.

The Browns tallied a run in the opening period on singles by Hemphill and Jones, but the error in trying to field Jones' rap.

A single by Collins, Padden's error of misplaying the ball, and Anderson's infield tap and Ganzel's run in the third inning gave the Invaders another run in the third.

New York held a little slug fest in the seventh inning, and Osteen, a Washington star, sent a ball over the fence for the remarkable feat of knocking the ball for a home run in this period.

GANZEL'S SENSATIONAL DRIVE. Ganzel's feat was the more remarkable from the fact that the bases were all occupied when John pushed one of Sudhoff's "softies" into the left-field bleachers.

Osteen's drive went over the right-field fence, and the ball was on base when the hit was made.

Osteen opened up the seventh with a smash over the right-field fence, and fanned. Chesbro bunted safely. Keeler was safe on Hill's error, but was out at first on a throw from the pitcher.

Williams, second base, drew a free pass. Anderson singled, scoring Chesbro. Ganzel pushed one into the left-field bleachers, scoring Collins, Williams, Anderson and himself. McGuire ended the agony by offering up a pop fly to Hemphill.

Hill's bunt, Thoney's error, Gleason's infield out and Kahoe's single gave to the locals their second run in the seventh.

Free pass to Sudgen, an error by Thoney on Padden's easy grounder, and Hill's single gave to St. Louis their last run of the game in the eighth inning.
